

Kozai, Takamatsu, in the Tensho era (1573-1592), an illustration drawn during the Warring States period in Japan.

It depicts a fortress on a mountain Katsuga, castles, temples and shrines, a discussion hall, and a small port city facing the Seto Inland Sea.

Source: Appendix of Kozai-shi [The History of Kozai], 1930

Geo-Communication Seminar 38

Historians' talk on Ukraine from Slovenia and Japan

Date: April 20, 2022, 17:00-19:00 PM (EDT, US); April 20, 2022, 22:00-24:00 PM (CET);
April 21, 2022, 5:00-7:00 AM (CST/TST), 6:00-8:00 AM (JST)

Place: Virtual Meeting (Zoom) (<https://aseh.org/event-4770061>)

ASEH ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY WEEK 2022

- Chair:
Toru Terao, ICEDS, Faculty of Education, Kagawa University, Japan.
- Introduction
17:00-17:05
Statement of purpose: Satoshi Murayama, Kagawa University, Japan.
- Presentations [Part 1: 17:05-18:05]
  1. (17:05-17:25)
Are more resource wars on the way? The new wall Putin's Russia is building and the Ukraine crisis.
Satoshi Murayama, Kagawa University, Japan.
  2. (17:25-17:45)
Ukraine War in the historical and geo-strategical context in 20th century Europe.
Žarko Lazarević, Institute of Contemporary History, Slovenia.
  3. (17:45-18:05)
Geopolitics, falling globalization, and the Anthropocene: historical thoughts on the Russo-Ukrainian War.
Michael Shiyung Liu, University of Pittsburgh, USA / Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China.
- Free Discussion [Part 2: 18:10-19:00]

Living Spaces Project - HAELE: http://dlpweb.ed.kagawa-u.ac.jp/main/?page\_id=462

Organized by ICEDS (= International Consortium for Earth and Development Sciences, Kagawa University)

Supported by Kaken 20H01523 and JSPS/MESS Bilateral Program